

Sky-High Dividends: How Cloud Investments Boost Supply Chain Performance

Cloud adoption has become a ubiquitous trend across organizations looking to increase their ability to compete in a world marked by significant digital transformation. This is especially true for organizations that have a manufacturing and/or supply chain component to their business.

180%
ROI

According to McKinsey, the average company adopting cloud today could achieve massive ROI in business benefit.

52%

of Companies Have Moved to the Cloud:
More than half of supply chain enterprises now host critical corporate data in the cloud.

$40.4 Billion
by 2030:

The global cloud logistics market is a rapidly evolving sector with investments expected to reach over $40 billion by 2030.

80%

Unstructured Data:

Most of an organization's data will be unstructured across a variety of media by 2025.

20%

Increase in Budget:

Cloud computing budgets have ballooned from $561 billion a year ago to $675 billion today.

Ready to go beyond the numbers? Revolutionize your supply chain operations with the right cloud solutions. Get in touch with us today at info@ctg.com.